PROJECTS

Portfolio Website

11/2023

This is a unique way to showcase my work and let others know about myself. It's like an evergreen platform for my projects, and information about me. In addition, it's one of the best ways to express my personality, experience, and capabilities.

Web Scraping

05/2023

Web scraping information from a certain Amazon URL was part of the project. The objective was to retrieve data regarding items that were posted on Amazon. I took out twenty pages of product listings. I used Python to finish all of these tasks.

- Extracted data included: Product URL, Product Name, Product Price, Rating, Number of reviews
- Additional Data Collection: I used the obtained Product URLs. Scraped additional data for around 200 products, including: ASIN (Amazon Standard Identification Number), Product Description, Manufacturer.
- Output Format: The collected data was exported in a CSV format.
